Woman Killed By Milk Truck On Mass. Ave.

Struck by a heavy refrigerator milk truck while awaiting a street car at Massachusetts and Bartlett avenues, last Friday morning, Mrs. Louise Cook, 72, of 5 Bartlett ave. suffered injuries of which she died early the following day at the Symmes hospital.

The funeral was held from the late home last Tuesday morning with a high mass of requiem in St. Agnes' Church. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Mrs. Cook was struck by a truck operated by Roger B. Smith of Littleton and was thrown several feet by the force of the impact. Mrs. Cook was on her way to early mass at St. Agnes' church when the accident happened and it is believed that the truck driver failed to see the woman in the semi-darkness.

The victim of the fatal accident was the wife of Frank A. Cook, whom she had married 55 years ago. She had been a resident of Arlington for 18 years. Besides her husband she leaves four sons, Frank A. Jr. of Lexington; Robert J. of Newark, N. J.; John P. Cook of Arlington and William P. Cook of Quincy.

Special Town Meeting Jan. 29

In order to act on necessary appropriations for materials with which to carry on WPA projects in Arlington, the board of selectmen last Monday evening opened a warrant for a special town meeting to be held in the Robbins town hall, Wednesday evening, Jan. 29. Other matters will also be brought up at the special session, it is expected.

The board last Monday also opened warrants for the regular annual town meeting on March 2 and 18 as well as a special meeting on March 18. The warrants for these last two town meetings will not be closed until Feb. 3.

Would Cut Highway Appropriation Of Arlington In Half

(Special to the NEWS)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, January 9.—With the intent of cutting the $157,022 highway appropriation of the Town of Arlington to $78,511, Rep. Elmer C. Nelson of Milford today called on the legislature to order state reimbursement to cities and towns for 50 per cent of local highway costs.

The measure was introduced after the Massachusetts Selectmen's association at its last week's session expressed itself to be in complete accord with the proposal.

At the same time Nelson introduced a proposal forbidding state public works heads to order cities, towns and counties to construct city, town and county ways, under contract labor. Highway work of the above nature is better known as chapter 90 construction.

Both measures are supported by selectmen. During the last legislative session Nelson waged a continuous battle for local control over highway work and his repeated assaults on the state department of Public Works prompted the filing of the two measures.

Bruins Player Wins Intelligence Test

At a party held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John King, of Jason st., Peggy O'Neill, popular Boston Bruins hockey player won first prize in an intelligence test. That popular game sensation of the year, "Intelligentsia," was played and enjoyed by all.

Another Big Bingo Party

Another big bingo party is promised by St. James Catholic Club for next Wednesday evening, in St. James' upper hall. A special announcement is made in today's NEWS in connection with the party. Several well known Arlington people were among the winners of major prizes last Wednesday night at the St. James party.

"You were right!"

"You were right," says one friend to another. "Their food certainly is delicious . . . and their cocktails excellent. Their wines and liquors are the best from 41 Nations."

Let's have dinner there tomorrow. RIGHT? That New Year's Eve party was a real treat. The setting and dancing in the SPANISH ROOM was Delightful.

We must arrange there for our next BANQUET.

SEALER'S NOTICE

In accordance with Chapter 98, Section 41 of the General Laws, the Sealer of Weights and Measures gives due notice that he shall be in his office at the Town Hall every afternoon of the week beginning January 13, 1936 between the hours 1 P. M. to 4 P. M. for the purpose of testing and sealing weighing and measuring devices used for the purpose of buying or selling goods, wares or merchandise.

FRANKLIN P. HAWKES
Minister of C. of C. in Arlington

Chamber of Commerce Show This Evening

All roads lead to Robbins town hall tonight when the Arlington Chamber of Commerce will present the biggest minstrel show ever produced in the history of the town. Following a final dress rehearsal which lasted until a late hour last night, George Lord, director and coach of the show, was enthusiastic over the prospects of presenting one of the smartest and snappiest entertainments of its kind.

Franklin P. Hawkes, principal of Junior High West and prominent in many local organizations, will handle the difficult task of interlocutor and will have his hands full in keeping the endmen, whose names appeared in last Friday's News on their good behavior. Without question, these boys will be all over the stage tonight and are bound to outdo the antics of the Marx brothers. Never has a more lively bunch ever been selected to hand out the laughs.

Among the specialties will be Marie Dowd and Russell Curry in tap dances; Kerr and Silva in song and dance; a duet by Alice Redmond and Chester Cook; George Dane, accordion soloist; William McNeil, freight postoffice superintendent in a surprise harmonica solo; and Miss Marie Breaux, soprano soloist.

The large chorus of carefully selected voices will sing such popular numbers as "Dixie Jamboree," "Rhythm in Your Feet," "No Other One," "Somebody Stole My Gal" and "Treasure Island." Search as he did the writer was unable to find "The Music Goes Round and Round" on the program so the trumpeter will be able to save that middle valve from being wrecked after all.

So, it's Town Hall Tonight!

School Board Names Cahalin

Deadlocked for several weeks, the School Committee at a joint meeting with the selectmen last Monday evening finally named a successor to Prof. Clara E. Turner who resigned on Oct. 1 because of pressure of business.

The new school committeeman, Harold A. Cahalin, of 15 Johnson rd., attended his first board meeting last Tuesday evening.

Mr. Cahalin was born in Arlington, and has lived here all his life, having received his elementary education in Arlington schools. He is connected with the First National Bank of Boston which employs him as an advisor to municipalities which have involved themselves in financial difficulties. He is a graduate of Suffolk Law School, where he studied in order to be of greater value to his bank.

His appointment is until March 1.

Former Local Man May Run For State Treasurer On Democratic Ticket

James McCall, of Boston, one-time resident of Arlington, will soon announce his intent to seek the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer, it was reported at the State House late yesterday.

McCall declined to amplify the statement circulated by friends and at the same time offered no denial.

Miss Ruth Dolloff Bride of William Curtis

Although they had filed marriage intentions some time ago, Miss Ruth Dolloff, of 1067 Massachusetts ave. and William Curtis, of 30 Lamont st., Roxbury, surprised their many friends this week with the announcement of the marriage which took place last Sunday. The ceremony was performed in Mattapan.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis are making their home in Cambridge. The bride is a graduate of Arlington High while Mr. Curtis was graduated from Boston English High. Mrs. Curtis has devoted much of her time along literary lines, several of her stories having been published. The most recent appeared in a Boston newspaper New Year's Day.

State Compensation Sought for Arthur Dean

Because Arthur Roy Dean, of 19 Avon pl. became diseased due to an inoculation given him while at Barnstable with Headquarters' Detachment of the Service Battery of the 101st Field Artillery, Massachusetts National Guards, compensation for his illness is asked of the State in a resolve filed yesterday by Senator Chas. T. Daly of this district.

It is stated that Dean's illness occurred in July 1921 and to date no settlement has been made by the State.

Duke Charles' Band Chosen For Birthday Ball; Tickets On Sale

Committee Organized Last Evening — General Chairman Explains Aim of Entertainment To Be Given January 30 — Town To Receive Seventy Per Cent of Receipts — To Fight Infantile Paralysis

Tickets for Arlington's first Birthday Ball for the President which will be held in Robbins town hall on the evening of January 30 were distributed at the first meeting of the general committee in the town hall last evening. The tickets go on sale today and may be procured from members of the committee as well as at the selectmen's office, the Arlington News office, and stores in the Heights and East Arlington.

P. Joseph McManus, general chairman of the committee, explained the aim of the entertainment to be given January 30, to receive seventy per cent of receipts — to fight infantile paralysis.

Perhaps the two qualities which have made Duke Charles and his unit outstanding, and those attending the ball are sure to be treated to something. Novelty and arrangements which Duke has received from New York this week will be played at the ball for the first time. In addition to the 12-piece band engaged for the Ball, Duke will present a vocal trio and vocal selections by Roy Anderson, popular local boy.

Urges Local Support
Urging that Arlington this year join other communities in sponsoring a Birthday Ball, Henry L. Doherty, national chairman, in a letter to the NEWS writes:

"President Franklin D. Roosevelt for many years has been at the fore in the battle against infantile paralysis. For the last two years he has loaned the use of his birthday, January 30, for nationwide Birthday Balls to raise funds for the two-fold purpose of after treatment of victims of infantile paralysis and of scientific research to find the cause and cure of the disease.

"Your community up to this time has not taken part in the national crusade for the benefit of victims of that child-crippling plague, infantile paralysis. Yet neither your neighborhood, nor any place in the country, is immune from an epidemic of the cruel disease next summer or in some earlier year. In its own interest, the community ought to provide itself with means, both of knowledge and money, for helping the

PARK COMMISSIONERS ENDORSE NATIONAL YOUTH PROGRAM FOR ARLINGTON

The Board of Park Commissioners, John B. Byrne, chairman, Nils G. Anderson, and Daniel M. Hooley, as its last official act during the last executive session for the year 1935, voted unanimously to encourage and promote the National Youth Administration in Arlington.

The National Youth Administration will entail no expense whatever to the tax payers of Arlington, and will be entirely financed by the Federal Government. The Board has communicated with the Regional Administrator, advising him of its vote and desired cooperation in the matter.

The purpose of the National Youth Administration is essentially to provide and promote recreational activities in the form of competitive athletics such as baseball, basketball, ice hockey, swimming and all aquatic sports, track events and calisthenics, for the young men of Arlington between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five.

Analogous to the recreational features of the National Youth Administration is the Vocational Guidance section, which will provide adequate training and encouragement toward the advancement of the natural aptitude of the young men of Arlington between the ages of eighteen to twenty-five, in ultimately selecting their vocation in life.

Commensurate with the recreational features and the Vocational Guidance section is the Educational Program, consisting of formal and informal discussions on all matters of current interest, the establishment of an "Open Forum," and a complete course of illustrated lectures.

To Provide Jobs
The establishment of the National Youth Administration in Arlington, as sponsored by the Park Commissioners, will not only provide active athletic competition recreational entertainment, broad educational facilities, and vocational guidance for the young men of Arlington, but will also afford employment to the qualified young men of Arlington who have been unable to secure permanent employment as instructors and teachers.

The Board of Park Commissioners thoroughly believes that the National Youth Administration will adequately provide for a dismal condition that has been Arlington's for some time, and wholeheartedly endorses the movement, with the hope that in the near future means may be devised whereby the young girls of Arlington may be allowed the same privileges and opportunities that will be afforded the young men of Arlington as provided by the National Youth Administration, which the Park Commissioners believe will eventually cease to be purely an emergency measure and will ultimately become a permanent feature of the American life.

Daily Seeks Three Public Improvements

(Special to the NEWS)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Jan. 9.—Senator Charles T. Daly today called on the legislature to authorize three items of public improvement. One is for state work, two for Metropolitan District Commission betterments.

The proposals call for construction by the MDC of a sidewalk between Elm st., Medford and South st., Stoneham along the Fellowship West Parkway and by the same division for the installation of suitable lighting along the Mystic River Parkway between High st., West Medford and Beacon st., Winchester.

The state would be called upon to construct a highway from Mystic ave in Medford at Harvard st., along Winter Brook to Tufts sq in that city.

ARLINGTON GIRL INSTALLED

Metropolitan Pama Grange 30, held its installation of officers in Odd Fellows hall, West Somerville last Saturday evening. Douglas C. Holcomb of Cambridge was installed as Master and Miss Elsie K. Leslie of Highland ave, this town, was installed as Pama. Both young people are very active in Grange circles.

Members believe will eventually cease to be purely an emergency measure and will ultimately become a permanent feature of the American life.

Girl Scout Notes

Thirty-three girls and five leaders enjoyed the first winter camping trip to Cedar Hill, Dec. 31, 1935. The program was varied, and included fire-building, outdoor cooking, skating, singing, and folk-dancing. Miss Beryl Sullivan, captain of the Hardy school troop, instructed the girls in the cooking, assisted by Miss Mary MacGillivray, local Golden Eagle; Dorothy James and Frances Griffin. Miss Blanche C. McGowan, social director, had charge of the program.

An excellent weekend is planned for anyone interested in the Girl Scout nature and handicraft programs, at Cedar Hill, from 4 p. m. Friday, Jan. 24 to 4 p. m. Saturday, Jan. 25. The instructors will be Miss Marie Gaudette, national nature consultant, and Mrs. Chester Marsh, national director of arts and crafts. Both of these women are extremely interesting and the course promises to be worth-while. Call the office for further information.

Arlington's Girl Scout Drum and Bugle Corps is progressing very well, but we should like very much to have more of our Scouts join us Thursday at 4 p. m. in the Assembly Hall of Junior High Center. Chester Whiting is the drum instructor, and Frank Whiting, the bugle instructor. Both of these men are excellent teachers, and have been training the Arlington Corps for several years.

Let's have a champion Drum and Bugle Corps in Arlington in 1936. Miss Blanche C. McGowan will attend the regional conference for local directors at Cedar Hill, Monday, Jan. 13, 1936.

Troops 6 and 13 are planning to go to the Cambridge swimming pool this Thursday evening for a swim as a change from their regular troop meetings. They will be in charge of Miss Martha Barr, Miss Beryl Sullivan, Miss Mary Leveroni, and Miss Blanche C. McGowan.

Most of the troops have had two weeks vacation from meeting. Troop 1 held a party Monday before Christmas, and several of the troops went caroling. All did their part in furnishing Christmas cheer to needy families.

Troop 11 had a long-to-be-remembered day, Dec. 30, when Mrs. Bond, their captain, took them to see the maporium at the Christian Science Publishing House, and then to the Children's Museum.

Clements - Oldham Marriage Performed

In the Church of Our Saviour, East Arlington last Sunday evening, Mrs. Viola Clements, of 14 Palmer st was united in marriage to William A. Oldham. Rev Mr. Bixby performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Clements was attended by Miss Eileen Clements as maid of honor, and William Oldham, Jr. was best man. Following a reception at 14 Palmer st, attended by a group of intimate friends, the couple left for a honeymoon in Maine. They will make their home in Arlington.

The groom is employed by the Boston Elevated company and formerly lived in Somerville and Brighton.

Wants Appointive Power Transferred To Justice

(Special to the NEWS)

STATE HOUSE, Boston.—Transfer of appointive power over the clerk of courts in the East Cambridge and other district courts throughout the state, to Arthur P. Stone and other presiding justices, will probably be asked within the next few days by Senator Theodore R. Plunkett of Adams.

The power of appointment now rests with the Governor. It is upon the theory that the presiding judge is fully responsible for the efficient conduct of his court that the transfer of power is intended.

Ham's New Store Is Thoroughly Re-Decorated

The many patrons of Ham's new store at 641 Massachusetts ave were surprised this week to find the store thoroughly re-decorated from floor to ceiling.

The store, formerly operated by Rufus Blake, and now managed by H. J. Lappen, has been painted in pale blue stippled with gold. The ceiling is pure white with blue panels. Attractive new signs have also been installed.

Not only is this store attractive, but the complete line of candies, ice cream, and other food products carried has no par. Thus, patrons may stop here for a bite of the choicest delicacies and at the same time enjoy surroundings that are pleasant.

HALF-HOLIDAY VOTED

The selectmen last Monday evening voted to a half-holiday in each week without loss of pay to employees in all town departments. This is a routine matter and is done in accordance with State laws.

Military Honors To Be Given War Veteran

Full military honors will be paid Michael O'Rourke, whose funeral takes place tomorrow morning. The funeral will be held from the late home, 67 Henderson st., with a solemn high mass of requiem at the Immaculate Conception church on Alewife Brook parkway, Cambridge, at 8:30 o'clock. Burial will be in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Arrangements for the military funeral are under the direction of Arlington's post 1775, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Members of the post are also requested to meet at the post quarters this evening at 8 o'clock to go later to the O'Rourke home where the military ritual will be read at 8:30.

Mr. O'Rourke died last Tuesday following an operation performed at the Veterans' Hospital in the Bronx, N. Y. He was a member of Company C, 116th Engineers, 41st Division in the World War. Members of the Arlington Town Employees association will act as pallbearers.

Surviving Mr. O'Rourke besides his wife, are two sons, John and Charles, and two daughters, Mary and Josephine.

To Hold Hearing On Coasting For Washington Street

As the result of a petition presented to the board of selectmen by residents living in the vicinity of Washington street requesting that that street be opened to coasting, the selectmen have called a special public hearing to be held in Robbins town hall next Monday evening.

The street was closed to coasting after the board had been requested to close it by large group of citizens. In public sentiment over the matter, the board decided to air the issue at a public hearing.

MISS HALEY GETS POSITION IN ASSESSORS' OFFICE

From the list of three names submitted by Civil Service Commission Thomas H. Green to Head Clerk Arthur F. Wells of the board of assessors, Miss Helen J. Haley, of 126 Lake st was selected to fill the position of temporary clerk-typist this week. Miss Haley started upon her new duties last Tuesday.

SOCIAL AGENCIES HAVING DRIVE BENEFIT TOWN, SELECTMAN POINTS OUT

A census taken on a single day revealed that 516 people from Arlington were served by less than a third of the 100 hospitals, health and social agencies participating in the 1936 Community Fund Campaign. George H. Lowe, Jr., local chairman, revealed this week.

In an effort to get actual figures on services given by certain Community Fund agencies in Arlington and other metropolitan communities, the Boston Council of Social Agencies conducted this census on a predetermined date, November 19, 1935.

Among those from Arlington who received service, 53 were patients in hospitals. The amount paid by and for these patients was $45.32; the cost of their care for this given date was $129.87. This left $84.56 to be borne by the Community Fund hospitals. Some of these patients paid at the full rate, but none paid the full cost of the service received.

The same day 29 children from Arlington were being helped by six child caring agencies of the Community Federation of Boston. For the children paying board for the week of the census, the cost was $90.00, of which $11.75 had to be borne by the agencies.

During 1934 the Massachusetts Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children cared for 40 Arlington children.

On November 19th five youth agencies in the Community Fund had on their rolls 394 residents of Arlington, 28 of whom received service free and 104 paid in part. This census did not attempt to show all of the work done in the metropolitan area by agencies participating in the Community Fund," Mr. Lowe explained, "but it does suggest the extent to which the agencies serve the entire metropolitan area."

"It is estimated that Community Fund agencies do 30 per cent of their work for people living in the metropolitan area outside Boston proper. Sixty-five of the 100 agencies devote a part of their services to people in suburban cities and towns."

George A. Parker, chairman of the Metropolitan Division for the Campaign, in a statement issued this week, said in part: "The territory of the Community Fund Campaign is metropolitan Boston, because metropolitan Boston is really one great community knit by a thousand interests. In spite of the political independence of its 40 cities and towns, they are interdependent in many things that concern their common welfare. Aside from the particular individuals directly helped in suburban cities and towns, Community Fund agencies promote the physical, moral and social well-being of the entire Greater Boston community. One-half of our metropolitan community cannot suffer without the other half being endangered."

JUNIOR GARDENERS MEET

The Arlington Junior Garden Club held its December meeting on Dec. 31, at the home of our senior director, Miss Lucinda Higgins. It was a New Year's party. There were many games with prizes. Cocoa and cookies were served.

Woman's Club Members Attend Press Conference

The Department of Press and Publicity of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs held its annual Press Day Conference at the Hotel Brunswick in Boston, January 8th. Miss Grace Parker, of Arlington, Chairman of the Department conducted the morning session.

Arlington Woman's Club members present were Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter, President, Mrs. Harold B. Wood, Miss Elsie Parker, Mrs. J. Herbert Mead, Mrs. Grace I. Lawley, Mrs. Ralph G. Perkins, Mrs. Arthur E. Gilmour, Chairman of the Press and Publicity Committee and committee members, Mrs. Gordon E. Egelow, Mrs. Archie Bullock, Mrs. Albert J. Hanson, Mrs. Lucinda Higgins, Mrs. Angus P. MacDonald and Mrs. Charles A. Snow.

PAINTERS ATTENTION

An open meeting of Arlington painting contractors will be held in Wyman's tavern next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. All are urged to attend.

The Germ Process is not "just another oil-refining process!"

DISCOVERED by Continental scientists after four years of painstaking research and experiment and patented by Continental. The most important advance in the science of lubrication in 20 years.

PROVED by 965,000 miles of road tests and by the Indianapolis Destruction Test, in which five quarts carried a stock car 4,729 miles—1,410 miles farther than the best of five competing quality oils. Proof of greater motor protection and lower oil consumption!

PROVED by motorists in 40 states in millions of miles of driving. Since its introduction in April, 1934, sales of New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Oil have increased 60.4%.

Say
"OK-Drain"
—FILL WITH—

CONOCO

GERM PROCESSED
MOTOR OIL

It is a revolutionary patented principle of better motor protection!

IT WILL pay you in better motor protection to know the fundamental difference between Germ Processed Oil and every other oil.

The Germ Process is not like solvent or other cleaning processes that just remove impurities from oil. Many oils made by new methods may be free of carbon and sludge, but over-refining robs them of oiliness and film strength, the very qualities on which lubrication depends under extreme pressures!

Continental, as a matter of course, uses refining methods that produce a pure, stable oil free from carbon and sludge troubles. Then this oil—and only this oil—is Germ Processed, which means adding small quantities of a concentrated oily essence created and patented by Continental.

This exclusive process gives Germ Processed Oil special qualities that oil does not naturally possess, no matter what crude it is made from. Germ Processed Oil has:

1. The ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces in a motor. This penetrative film, the "Hidden Quark," becomes part of the metal itself. It cuts down starting-period wear because it is on duty before you touch the starter.

2. Two to four times the film strength of any oil not Germ Processed! Tests on Timken and other machines have proved that Germ Processed Oil has this extra film strength, so necessary to protect today's high-powered motors.

For a better lubricated and smoother running motor, say "O. K.—Drain"—fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

At the evening meeting January 23rd, the Zonta Club will have the privilege of seeing a picture "Down Through the Years" shown through the courtesy of the Schrafft Company. This meeting will be held at the Winchester Country Club.

LEADERS IN BUSINESS ADDRESS C. OF C. MEETING

With over eighty members of the Chamber of Commerce present, Wyman's tavern was packed to the doors last Tuesday evening for the "Arlington Night," one of the best meetings ever held by the business group.

A review of leading activities in 1935 in addition to forecasts for the present year featured the meeting with several prominent business men and women of Arlington as speakers. All were introduced by Earl Ryder, chairman of the meeting. They were:

Walter T. Chamberlain, treasurer of the Arlington Co-operative Bank; Samuel T. MacQuarrie, assistant to the vice-president of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company; Wilfred R. Rhodes, manager of the local office of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company; Horace Taylor, manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company; Ernest W. Davis of the Board of Selectmen who substituted for George H. Lowe, Jr., chairman of the Board who was ill; and Mrs. Harold B. Wood, former president of the Arlington Woman's Club.

Mrs. Wood was introduced by Atty. Frances Kelley.

In the discussion of general business in Arlington during 1935, and the prospects for 1936, Horace G. Taylor, manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company said:

"During 1935 the Arlington Gas Light Company had an experience somewhat similar to the other public utilities. Business seemed to be improved throughout the year, there were more customers on our lines and the amount of our product sold, compared favorably with that of the previous year; yet at the end of the year we were making less money for those who had invested their savings in our industry. We are not necessarily disheartened, however, as we believe that 1936 will be an even better year."

John D. O'Leary, president of the Chamber also introduced Atty. P. Joseph McManus, general chairman of the Arlington committee for the President's Birthday Ball who outlined the purpose of the coming event.

"From another point of view, I think we have contributed something to the economic side of the town by finally removing the abandoned plant on Mystic 4, which I understand the neighbors in that section did not regard as a thing of beauty. I know there was some delay in removing this plant due to a variety of causes, and I, for one, am glad it is finally gone and can no longer be regarded as detracting from the natural beauty of the parkway and the lakes which lie so near it."

John D. O'Leary, president of the Chamber also introduced Atty. P. Joseph McManus, general chairman of the Arlington committee for the President's Birthday Ball who outlined the purpose of the coming event.

"Only orthopedic hospitals of the doctors trained in them can supervise these treatments adequately. One of these hospitals may not be adjacent to your community, but your doctors know where the nearest one is. The doctors know, too, the need of having a local fund which can be used for the treatment of neighborhood cases, either for transporting the patient to the hospital, or for securing braces or mechanical appliances for home treatment under medical care. Any community activity in this direction will have medical fraternity."

NATIONAL YOUTH ADMINISTRATION

The Park Commissioners should receive the support and encouragement of all in establishing the National Youth Administration program in Arlington.
To provide proper facilities for the proper development of our young people along educational, recreational and vocational lines is one of the first obligations of a well governed community.
Great care should be exercised in the development of this program to see to it that all sections of the town are adequately provided for and that the benefits of this act are not administered for a selected group.
"Leaders of young peoples" groups in Arlington should see to it that all groups share alike in this enterprise which should do much to give our young people a greater opportunity to fit themselves for good citizenship.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

To sell a product an advertiser must enter the home. He must make that personal contact which is so vital in the sales field. If he or his agents were to call upon every family in a community he would be confronted with a tedious, disagreeable, thankless and impossible task. Housewives are too prone to chase the salesman away with the dust which settles on the back porch.
The Arlington News does away with this roundabout task. It reaches the home. It is read. The advertiser who wishes his product to become known is fully aware of the advantage of this newspaper.
Though the advertiser may be a stranger to the potential consumer, the newspaper is not. It is part of the consumer's life. He has learned to rely upon it as a reliable source of news. He knows also that when products are advertised in its columns he may rely upon them. He has faith in the publisher.

Comparing the newspaper with other media we find that magazines, radio, billboards, circulars and mail solicitations all serve their purpose. But not one is as effective as the newspaper.
The newspaper is flexible. Whether an advertiser wants spot or routine advertising he has a medium for the purpose.

THE SOCIAL INSECURITY ACT

"The dangers which lurk behind the Social Security Act doom it from its birth," writes Abraham Epstein, executive director of the American Association for Social Security, in the December issue of Harpers Magazine. "The plan contemplates the building up of the most gigantic reserve, estimated to reach over fifty billion dollars by 1980 — more than four times the value of all the gold reserve of the world's central banks and governments. The freezing of so much sorely needed purchasing power cannot but hamper recovery. The problem of investing such huge sums will prove insuperable. No one can guarantee that such fantastic governmental credits will ever be made good. It is utopian to pledge today the America of fifty years hence. Large reserves are always in danger of being usurped by politicians for other purposes, as experience with other funds amply testifies. Should even a partial inflation wipe out some of these funds, no one can calculate the menace it will create."
"It is a confession of complete ignorance of the principles of social insurance for liberals to argue that with all its faults, the Act, nevertheless 'makes a beginning.' A beginning toward what? Only incapacity to see the long-range interests of labor prompts William Green to gloat over the fact that the Act places the responsibility for unemployment insurance upon employers. A tax on payrolls is not a tax on the owners of industry but on the workers as consumers. The Act does not levy a cent on the owners of industry, as Mr. Green thinks it does. And it is palpable nonsense or worse for Miss Perkins to arouse great hopes that this Act will give protection to the working masses. . . . The Act merely sets up a system of compulsory payments by Poor Paul for impoverished Peter. The law actually decreases the purchasing power of the masses by depriving them of immediate purchases, by relieving the well-to-do from their share of the social burden and by making the workers pay the expenses of a vast administration. It is especially cruel and reprehensible to saddle upon the employed workers new and burdensome direct and indirect taxes in the face of continued unemployment amidst rising prices, mounting State and municipal sales taxes which fall largely upon the poor, and a steadily declining wage scale, considerably induced by low PWA wages."

THE NEWS OBSERVES

Congratulations to our contemporary, the Arlington Advocate on its 64th birthday celebrated this week.

The editor attended a union meeting at the First Baptist church in Waltham last Sunday evening in which the Oxford Movement was explained. This movement has been far reaching in its effects, and it has attracted much attention both here and abroad for the good it has accomplished. In a time when there is appeal for more profound religious faith and for more spiritual understanding of life, a movement such as this, which does not take the place of any sect or creed but is intended to make more vital the teachings of the Master to everyone of whatever faith, should be of interest to all Christians.

Last week a woman called the NEWS office by telephone and asked if we had omitted the market section of our paper.

Some of our regular market advertising was missing due to the holiday which explains the absence of this advertising. On several occasions we have had telephone calls when certain market advertising has not appeared in the NEWS which emphasizes the fact that Arlington women depend upon the NEWS for marketing help.

In answer to scores of inquiries we have learned that the staging in front of the National Bank and Grossmith's Drug Store has been raised in order to repair the store fronts. No new front is to be installed, the NEWS reporter was told.

the best pictures ever produced. Our local theatres are certainly providing the customers fine pictures for their money.

Arlington is to have a local unit of the National Union for Social Justice. Anyone interested to become a member should call Arlington 5763-W as soon as possible.

Our congratulations to Miss Claire Nolin, of Waltham who was chosen final winner of the beauty contest conducted by the "Ziegfeld Follies." Miss Nolin has received a contract to appear with the "Follies" during the New York run. To the Arlington girls who competed for the honor, we may say, "Here's hoping for better luck the next time."

The board of assessors and its assistants are taking the annual census of the town as well as estimating property for tax assessment. Sixteen assistant assessors are doing the outside work and three other assistants are temporarily employed in the office.

Howard Tutt Tuttle of Arlington was seen the other evening with a band in a downtown restaurant. He has taken over the New Yorkers formerly with the Yen Ho and with a few changes has developed a smooth rhythmic band. They will start to broadcast next Saturday over WNAC.

Taxes paid into the United States treasury during the fiscal year 1935 amounted to between $26 and $27 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The Arlington W. C. T. U. is looking forward to the Victory Luncheon in Ford Hall, Boston, January 16 and the Middlesex Institute at the Cambridge Y. W. C. A., January 30. These are two major events in the W. C. T. U. program.

By the way, Vincent Badala proved to be quite a handy artist in his appearance before the Temperance Union last Wednesday afternoon.

Should the good old U. S. A. send a golf team into the Olympic fray, Bob White of the Post, in his estimate of the ideal choice, says he would select a candidate with the power of Johnny Thoren, Arlington golfer. We second the motion, Bob.

Paul Griffin again has the politicians guessing. His statement about running for "higher office" puzzles them. Some interpret the remark of the Young Civic leader as meaning that he will be a candidate for Town Clerk while others interpret it as meaning that he will run for assessor. There is no question but that he will be a candidate next March.

The NEWS publishes all the local news each week, employs approximately 30 people, buys locally, pays taxes and delivers 10,200 newspapers to Arlington homes free each week. This service is paid for from advertising revenue only. Most newspapers accept liquor advertising, and we feel that if kept within proper bounds, this is a legitimate source of revenue.

We are interested in our readers' comments and should like to have their view point on this question.

James A. Farley says the coming campaign will be bitter and dirty. We also claim that the only issue is whether President Roosevelt has done well or ill by his country. Further, Mr. Farley anticipates misrepresentations, outright lies, and every form of foul whispering.

Would Mr. Farley accuse us of being bitter and dirty if we suggest that many people conscientiously object to the following performances of the present administration.

1. Interference with business as it occurred during the term of the N.R.A.
 2. Invasion of states' rights as occasioned by the administration of the A.A.A.
 3. Patronage, or the spoils system, of which Mr. Farley is one of the greatest advocates.
 4. Shouldering the country with a national debt of over $30,000,000. (The greatest debt in our history?)
 5. Instituting and promoting legislation contrary to the spirit and meaning of the constitution.
 6. Excessive experimentation in government resulting in confusion and lack of confidence on the part of business generally.
 7. Establishment of large bureaucracies and forms of dictatorship contrary to the spirit of a true democracy.
- Can Mr. Farley honestly accuse people who object to these performances of hitting below the belt, of being financial gangsters or even of hating President Roosevelt?

Autos must be an attraction to non-owners. Two cars were stolen in Arlington this week. The thieves evidently don't know about the pleasure of winter driving.

Expect Battle On Gas Tax

(Special to the NEWS)
STATE HOUSE, Boston - With a new state tax program the outstanding feature of the 1936 program drafted by Governor James M. Curley, a battle looms on the continuation of the three-cent gasoline tax.
Rep. Charles W. Hedges of Quincy would repeal the additional one-cent added to the existing two-cent tax from year to year, the extra levy to be taken from the books May 1, 1936.
With the current three-cent tax, sufficient funds have been available in the past three years to transfer approximately $10,000,000 from the highway fund to the general fund, with the result that in lieu of a $178,600 state tax last year from the town of Arlington the state levy was but $89,300.
Governor Curley in his annual message asked that the legislature continue for five years the additional tax on gasoline.
Year in and year out the diversion of highway fund monies to the general fund has been a sore spot with legislators faced with a crying need to limit the state tax. The additional money levied on the sale of gasoline is primarily intended to defray highway construction costs but the use of the funds for general expenditures is liable to stir the political kettle to boiling point. The Hedges proposal is the first of such moves to bring about a battle along this line.

ARLINGTON WOULD BENEFIT BY NEW BILL IN LEGISLATURE WOULD CUT STATE ASSESSMENT

(Special to the News)

State House, Boston.—A constitutional amendment limiting the State tax to five per cent of the State's total expenditures of the year, is asked by Representatives Elmer C. Nelson of Milford and Christian A. Herter of Boston, in an effort to cut the Arlington assessment of $89,500 to $26,750.

In presenting the proposed change, legislators said:

"This constitutional amendment has been filed because our present method of budgeting the income and expenditures of the Commonwealth is an absurdity. Every year the Legislature appropriates so much money for the expense of running the State government, it then figures out how much revenue is likely to come from existing taxes, and it then makes up the deficiency in the revenue by levying that difference upon the cities and towns of the Commonwealth. This deficiency item is known as the State tax. Obviously cities and towns have no way of meeting the State tax except by raising their own real estate taxes, and to a minor degree their exercise of license taxes. They have no other source of revenue. In effect, then, the State tax is nothing but an additional burden on real estate and there is absolutely no limitation on its size.

"As long as the State tax remains unlimited, the Legislature has never balanced its budget as a budget should be balanced, namely, by having State taxes and State expenditures meet. The reason why we have allowed any State tax to continue is that it is practically impossible for each Legislature to make an exact balance of expenditures and revenues without yearly revising our State tax structure. We believe, however, that it is possible to come within five or approximately three million dollars under present conditions of the balance, and we believe that for the sake of having one flexible item of revenue such a limited State tax is proper.

"This constitutional amendment to become effective, would have to be approved by the present Legislature and next year's Legislature of that of the succeeding year, and would then have to be approved by popular vote in 1938. It would not become effective, therefore, until the fiscal year of 1939, and we believe that this is ample time in which to adjust to the amendment.

"This amendment does not embody any new or very radical idea. The Revere Committee of Taxation has recommended the abolition of the State tax, the Governor has done so in his annual message. However, there can be no assurance to real estate owners that this tax, yearly of unknown size, will not be levied on them arbitrarily by the Commonwealth unless the Constitution specifically prohibits such a levy."

Churches

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 12. The Golden Text is: "In the world ye shall have tribulation; but he of good cheer; I have overcome the world" (John 16:33).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup" (1 Corinthians 11:27, 28).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Obeying his precious precepts, following his demonstration so far as we apprehend it, we drink of his cup, partake of his bread, are baptized with his purity; and at last we shall rest, sit down with him, in a full understanding of the divine Principle which triumphs over death. For what says Paul? 'As often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come'" (p. 31).

Car is Driven Without Oil; No Harm Done

"We want the people of Arlington to see with their own eyes conclusive proof of the superiority of our product in the hardest grind to which an oil may be subjected," said H. S. Field and N. C. Haskell, New England representatives for Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil this week.

Accordingly, a stock Ford car was driven to the Mystic Valley Motors, Inc., formerly the Winchester Square Chevrolet Company of Winchester, where all the oil was drained from the crankcase. Then with Robert B. Holloway of Holloway Motors in Arlington as an observer the car was driven through the streets of Arlington, Winchester and Woburn for 31 miles, at normal driving speeds without the slightest concern for the safety of the motor. Approximately two hours later the car returned to the Mystic Valley Motors, Inc., where the motor was found to be so cool the bare hand could be placed directly on the head of the engine.

It was explained that while there was no oil in the crankcase, not a drop circulating through oil lines, there was oil in the motor which, due to the patented Germ Process, had penetrated directly into the pores of the metal and safely protected the working parts.

It seems that the first time Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is used in a car about one quart will go up into the vital working parts and never drain back to the crankcase even when the car stands idle for long periods of time. It was on this "Hidden Quart" that the motor ran during the test.

"Germ Processing," according to Mr. Field, involves the addition of a small percentage of a patented concentrate of oiliness factors discovered after years of research during which over 1000 different combinations were studied.

This addition to a already fine oil imparts properties not embodied in petroleum, makes the oil more slippery, of greater load carrying capacity and by lowering the surface tension permits it penetrate metal surfaces. These properties are exclusive to Conoco Oil and account for its remarkable performance. It is approved by all car manufacturers and was the winner of competitive lubricating oil tests conducted by the American Automobile Association.

It will be of interest to know that this oil was the one selected above all others on a quality basis by the Boston, Worcester & New York Street Railway Company, of Framingham, for the lubrication of their new Cummins Diesel-powered buses.

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is a product of the Continental Oil Company, one of the oldest and largest oil companies in the country, being established in 1875 and doing business through 22,000 stations in 42 states. They are now introducing their products to New England. They have established R. & J. Auto Repairs, Holloway Motors, B. & F. Auto Service and F. W. Wunderlich, Inc., as the first of the reputable local dealers where this oil may be purchased.

Such a company and product will be welcomed to Arlington.

Rangers Look Like "Winners" In League

The Rangers look like the probable champions again this year. Thus far in the Amateur Basketball League they have swept aside all competition including the two strong quintets, the Cardinals and the First Baptist Church A. A. Last Friday's games of this week were even faster. No doubt about it, the boys are getting better and better every week. Fans see some grand basketball every Wednesday night at the gymnasium of the Junior High School East. Four games every Wednesday night with the first game starting promptly at 7 p. m.

Next Wednesday's games Jan. 15 are hot. Here are the games to be played:

First Baptist A. A. vs Cardinals.

East End A. A. vs St. James.

Bears vs Pirates.

Rangers vs Sylvanians.

Senator Daly Seeks Re-Construction Of Important Thoroughfare

(Special to the News)

STATE HOUSE, Boston.—Senator Charles T. Daly of Medford has placed before the Legislature a demand for the widening and reconstruction of Highland ave. in the cities of Medford and Malden.

The work, according to the Daily measure, would be carried on by the state department of Public Works, and would require NO new appropriation.

From the $2,300,000 allotted for highways last year under the $13,000,000 bond issue appropriation, the Medford Senator would defray all expenses.

In 1935 no special highway measures were considered. The Department of Public Works grouped all projects for consideration under the bond issue.

To date no program of state policy for the state department has been expressed. At a later date the committee on highways and Motor Vehicles will give a public airing to the Daily proposal.

Firemen responded to an alarm from Box 712 yesterday noon for a slight fire in a truck owned by C. E. Hall, of Somerville. Daniel Ahearn of Boston was operating the truck at the time.

Scout Officials' Annual Session, Banquet, Jan. 18

For the first time in the history of Sachem Council wives of Scouters and other women friends of Scouting will be present at the Eleventh Annual Meeting and Banquet of the Council to be held Saturday, January 18th. The meeting place has been changed to the Arlmont Country Club.

While the Scouters are having their business session in the afternoon the women will be enjoying an entertaining program put on by a committee headed by Mrs. Wm. Hart Nichols of Waltham, after which they will attend the banquet.

The committee in charge of the Annual Meeting, Dr. Walter T. Garfield of Belmont, chairman, has been most fortunate in their choice of speaker, the Hon. Arthur T. Lyman, State Commissioner of Correction.

The business meeting will be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon when reports from committee chairmen and various officers will be acted upon, officers elected for the coming year, and the usual routine business transacted, this meeting to be followed by group discussions on various subjects of Scouting headed by experts.

At 6:30 the Annual Banquet will be held during which the new officers will be introduced, the new Scout Commissioner inducted by Scouts of Waltham and Watertown, the ladies welcomed, resolutions offered, and certificates for training courses presented. Then will follow the presentation of the Silver Beaver for Distinguished Service to Boyhood and a response by the recipient.

After Commissioner Lyman's address a Scouting pageant will be put on by Scouts and Scouters of Troop 35, First Baptist church, Waltham.

St. James' Club Loses Matches To Presentation Club

Presentation Club of Brighton defeated the league leading St. James' Catholic Club of Arlington 9-1-2 to 7-1-2 in a Catholic suburban league match last Tuesday night at the St. James' clubhouse. With Fr. Crowley, Pres. Al Leary, Vice Pres. John Kedian, Phil Riley and Bill Hazen in charge of the games and entertainment, the two clubs spent an enjoyable evening with refreshments following.

St. James made a clean sweep in the two bowling matches with the first team, undefeated in its last three starts, featuring with Fred Krepelka the leading bowler of the evening and Saul Barbera the runner up. Cliff Day of St. James led the two second teams for high score. However Presentation's strength in the card games was the deciding factor in their win over St. James.

W.C.T.U. Holds First Meeting of Year 1936

The January meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Wednesday afternoon, at the First Baptist church.

After the usual business meeting a Candle Lighting Service was presented, led by Mrs. William Corcoran. Those participating were Mrs. William Aylward, Mrs. William Augustus, Mrs. Alva Hardy, Mrs. W. A. Goodwin and Miss Isabelle Waite. The pageant demonstrated the growth of missions and temperance all over the world.

Banjo selections by Mr. Badala were much enjoyed. Mrs. William A. Carle was in charge of the program.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Patriquin and Miss Isabelle Waite.

Lax and Rowe In Olympics

John Lax and Paul Rowe, former Arlington High athletes and star hockey players, are in Europe to play with the Olympic Hockey Club for the honor and glory of the United States.

Both boys are well deserving of the honor and are the best in their class. Both played practically the same time in their High School years and then attended Boston University where they played four years together on the same line and the same team, and they both were stars. Paul Rowe was rather lost in the shuffle at Arlington High and his real talent for scoring went unrecognized although Paul was not the big fellow then that he is now. He was a slight young boy in High School and he had none of the speed and ability on the ice then that he has now.

Johnny Lax was a star all through Junior and Senior High. He went to B U and starred in his first year. Then it was discovered that Paul Rowe had the scoring punch that Johnny lacked and they were teamed up so that John's great blazing ability would be used to advantage and Paul's shooting and quick thrust would score. It worked and B U had the greatest hockey team in the history of the school. Paul Rowe has been hailed as the greatest prospect for pro hockey ever produced in the United States.

Lieutenant Herman Nickerson of the marines was the goalie of that club and he was one of the best. He was All-Scholastic at Arlington High.

Seeks State Aid For Disabled Similarly To Old-Age Assistance

(SPECIAL TO THE NEWS) STATE HOUSE, Boston.—Persons unable to earn a living because of physical disability would be aided by the Commonwealth on the same basis as old age assistance is now extended, under the terms of a proposal presented to the legislature today by Charles William Lavers of Belmont. Senator P. Eugene Casey filed the measure for Lavers.

Asserting that "social security demands that citizens should be adequately provided for," Lavers holds that cases of "charity" on the part of relatives and friends, should be given a degree of independence as are persons receiving old age assistance.

No recommendation in the bill is made for payment of the additional cost under the measure, which would increase to a large degree the annual old age payment of $17,978 made by the Town of Arlington.

In seeking "adequate assistance for disabled as well as aged persons," Lavers today declared that "The principle of public relief to aged citizens who have lived a useful life in their community is even more emphatically applicable to citizens who by reason of accident or disease have become incapacitated and dependent upon the charity of relatives, friends or the Commonwealth."

"Compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Law may provide for their disability for the time limited therein or there may be no statutory provision affording them any relief whatever. Social Security demands that citizens of this character should be adequately provided for and the proposed legislation is intended to bring about that result."

Miss Ruth Butler Is Bride of George Lloyd

Before a large gathering of relatives and friends last Saturday morning in St. James church, Miss Ruth Elizabeth Butler of 52 Hemlock st. became the bride of George Edward Lloyd of Billerica. A nuptial mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Maurice O'Connor.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Frederick Morton Butler, owner of Woodmoreland Riding School and well known horse fancier. She was beautifully gowned in white satin and lace, with veil of lace caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Pauline Butler of Billerica. Her gown was of turquoise blue transparent velvet with matching hat of velvet and tulle. Her bouquet was tallman roses. David Holahan of Malden was best man.

The groom is an automotive mechanic and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd of Billerica. A wedding breakfast at the Hotel Continental, Harvard sq. immediately followed the ceremony.

Before marriage, Mrs. Lloyd was a nurse at the State hospital, North Reading. After a short honeymoon trip to New York, the couple will reside in Malden.

The next meeting of the Varia Study Club will take place on Monday evening, January 13th at the home of the Misses Edith and Alice Johnson, 67 Hillside ave. Miss Priscilla Harding, stylist, will speak on fashions.

Arlington Man Charged With Alleged Swindle Arrested In Connecticut

Two men giving their names as William T. Ahern, 45, of Melrose st. Arlington, and Harry Tatz, 47, of Vineyard st. Providence, R.I., were held by the State Police last Tuesday in connection with an alleged $35,000 swindle involving a wealthy Ridgefield banker. The men were arrested Monday in a New Haven hotel by Lieut. William Schatzman of the Beacon Falls barracks of the State Police, who declined to discuss details of the case. Ahern's case has been continued until next Tuesday.

Welfare Council Elects; Teachers Donate $276.50

On Friday, January 3, the Arlington Welfare Council held its first monthly meeting of 1936. In spite of the inclement weather a fair representation of delegates was in attendance.

Election of officers, the annual budget approved, and other matters of importance were acted on. The following officers for 1936 were elected:

Mrs. Roscoe R. Perry, president; Mrs. Clarence E. Johnson, associate president; Mrs. John O. Matthews, vice president; Mrs. Frank Nasro, treasurer; Mrs. Emma Sprague, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. R. Gleason, recording secretary.

The outstanding donation to the Arlington Welfare Council Fund the past week is as follows: Arlington Teachers' Club, $276.50.

Bradshaw Friendly Union Has Enjoyable All-Day Meeting

The Bradshaw Friendly Union held an all day meeting last Monday.

The faithful workers gathered in the Parish House and adjourned to the church vestry for lunch.

Miss Eagleson's Group with Miss Sullivan as chairman, ably assisted by Mrs. Arthur W. Forsythe, and Mrs. Roscoe E. Patterson were hostesses.

The regular meeting opened at 2:30. Mrs. Clarence R. Day, president, advised the members to begin the New Year with enthusiasm, earnestness, and faith. Small tasks well done often lead to great things.

Mrs. Marvin E. Brown led the devotions, and Mrs. Frank Carlson sang "Dawn" and "A Memory" sweetly and with much expression. Her accompanist was Mrs. Lawrence L. Bailler.

Mrs. Edward N. Lacey introduced the speaker, Miss Katherine Mix from Dr. Beale's Hospital in Wai, India. She is a niece of Mr. Henry C. Guernsey.

With dolls dressed in native costumes, she made clear to all the difference is caste each type represented. The Hindu, Mohammedan and Parsu Religions are found in Wai.

At Dr. and Mrs. Beale's Hospital a great deal of surgical work is done. Preventive as well as curative measures are undertaken. In costume, Miss Mix sang an Indian hymn.

Groups of outcasts are seeking knowledge, and if they join the Christians, the political balance will change," she said.

India is waking up to her opportunities, especially women who are looking forward to a fuller life.

A tea and social hour followed.

Police Chief In Charge Of Brackett Meeting

The Brackett Parent Teacher Association will meet in the school auditorium next Tuesday evening Jan. 14, at 8 o'clock.

This meeting is devoted to "Fathers," and is in charge of Chief Archie F. Bullock. Mr. Bullock will give a short talk on the finger printing system, recently adopted in Arlington. The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Milton E. Kirkpatrick, M. D., of the Child Guidance Clinic of Worcester. His subject will be "Milestones in Citizenship."

A male quartet will sing a group of songs. Refreshments will be served.

There will be movies at the school auditorium, Saturday, Jan. 11, at 2 o'clock.

Says Major Smedley D. Butler: "If we can afford to pay the farmers for plowing up their wheat and cotton and for killing their pigs, why can't we afford to pay munition makers to stop making guns and shells that may some day kill our children?"

Arlington Track Men Meet Strong Team Here Today

By Rollins

The Arlington High School track team faces the strong, defending State Champions when they meet the Somerville High School runners this afternoon at the local board track at 2:30 o'clock. As both teams are usually title contenders, the results of this afternoon should have an important bearing on the State Championship contrary to the spirit of a true.

Next Friday the Arlington speedsters will play host to Brookline's powerful Class "A" track team, Freddy Ulen, who left A.H.S. for Exeter in his Junior year, is now an outstanding jumper and dash man for the Harvard freshmen.

All eyes will be focused upon the expectant duel over the 1000 yd. route between Jackie Frederickson and Paul Cronin. Cronin has been able to defeat Jackie in the past rather easily, but with the added confidence young Frederickson gained when he raced to victory in record smashing time in the New England schoolboy cross-country championships last fall, should make him a very formidable competitor. In Cronin and Frederickson, both still Juniors, Arlington has two of the best distance runners in this section of the country.

Marriages, Births, On Increase Locally: Deaths Are Fewer

Here's a sign that Arlington is getting to be a healthier place to live in every year, and that business conditions must be getting better also.

According to statistics at the Town Clerk's office, during 1935 there were 403 deaths in the town as compared with 417 the previous year.

As for business conditions, there's no question but young people must be more optimistic in their belief that "two can live cheaper than one" and that the world can now guarantee a living to those taking the important step. Last year, 368 marriage intentions were filed here as compared with 364 the previous year. In 1935, a total of 399 marriage returns were sent to the Town Clerk while in 1934 there were five less. Last but not least, in 1935 there were 688 births in the town while the previous year Arlington had only 662 births.

The appointment of a town physician was again tabled by the Selectmen last Monday evening.

PRINCIPAL ADDRESSES C. E.

Fifty-two young people felt well repaid for attending the Intermediate Christian Endeavor meeting of the First Baptist Church last Sunday night. Franklin Hawkes, Principal of Junior High West, was the speaker, and he mixed humor and seriousness in a splendid talk on "Three Rules for Life."

On Monday night, Jan. 13, this society is having a supper and amateur show. Admission will be by ticket only.

Next Sunday night the subject of the meeting will be "Choosing The Right Road," and the leader Warren Young.

The American government has become one of checks but not balances, says B. C. Forbes

SELECTMEN VOTE FOR BIENNIAL SESSIONS

(Special to the NEWS)
STATE HOUSE, Boston.—With a decided division among the ranks, Massachusetts selectmen meeting in annual convention last Friday, endorsed the pending constitutional amendment for biennial sessions of the state legislature.

Selectman Albert H. Blackford of West Newbury championed the cause of home rule as opposed to the biennial sessions. Citing the possible necessity of impeaching a high state official Blackford asserted it would be beyond the control of the public because full power to call a special sitting of the legislature rests with the Governor. Replying to criticism that improper men are sent to the legislature Blackford charged the responsibility rests with the voters continuing that a change in the system in vogue does not offer the remedy.

Walk and farm-to-market road projects.

Warns for Future
Warning selectmen to draft their town budgets for 1936 with ample margin in the reserve fund to meet needed appropriations later in the year for special works programs, was made by Theodore N. Waddell, state director of accounts.

"The need for a reserve fund is greater today than at any time in the past," Waddell told the selectmen.

Governor James M. Curley called on the selectmen to stand back of his new tax proposals offering a two dollar reduction in the local tax rate in return for a bonded indebtedness to the state.

Director of Accounts Waddell outlined the benefits of the existing law permitting municipalities to borrow in anticipation of tax title taxes. "The operation of this law has been the most successful piece of legislation ever adopted. Its enactment has saved the local taxpayers approximately $4 per thousand on their tax rate."

Director Waddell also predicted that some legislation will be adopted in the coming year for changes in town budgets permitting communities to make provision for meeting new and necessary appropriations if the communities are to take advantage of state and federal grants.

Asking selectmen to recommend increased appropriations in the reserve funds, Waddell asserted that there will naturally enough be abuses of the additional appropriations, but added that for every 100 towns there is but one abuse. "That is a pretty good batting average," he concluded.

Fears Biennials
The battle for biennial sessions already approved by the selectmen's associations of Franklin and Worcester counties, centered largely on the subject of town authority to state departmental rulings.

Albert H. Blackford of West Newbury charged the selectmen to "go slow, go slow."

"Do you want the towns' meetings to be held once in two years," he queried opening his argument. "What redress has the town against orders of the various departments, under the biennial session plan? When the founders of our government, through town meetings approved the creation of a legislature it did not intend to have mob rule. They did not intend to have mob democracy. Let us go slow, go slow. The legislature is our safeguard.

"The time may come for the impeachment of a high state officer. If the legislature sits but once in two years, they cannot be called into session for impeachment except by call of the Governor. What redress has the public."

"If the wrong men are sent to the legislature, the blame rests with the people, not the system." Supporting Blackford, Selectman Wheeler of the Town of Wayland asserted that the vote of the people would be a "yes" vote as on the question of prohibition and of the legalizing of horse and dog racing.

What appeared to be a unanimous opinion among the selectmen for biennial sessions, resulted in a divided opinion later in the afternoon when the actual vote was taken with 50 to 20 of the voting selectmen sponsoring the pending constitutional amendment.

Kiwanis Notes

The regular weekly luncheon of Kiwanis was held at Wyman's Tavern yesterday noon.

The speaker was Rev. John Nichol Mark, minister of the First Parish Unitarian Church of Arlington who gave a stirring address. He was applauded by the large gathering present. Mr. Mark preferred his message with a number of stories told as he alone can tell them.

F. R. Hauges reported for the Boy's Work Committee telling of the cooperation planned with the National Youth Movement.

John D. O'Leary representing the Chamber of Commerce made a most impressive presentation of the minstrel show to be given by the chamber this evening.

BAPTIST YOUTH CONFERENCE IN BOSTON ON JANUARY 12

A series of Northern Baptist Youth Conferences which is attracting national attention will be in Boston, Jan. 12, at Ford Hall. This is the first of the series to be held in New England.

Miss Esther Sing

The first of these conferences, which were planned by Dr. James H. Franklin, President of the Northern Baptist Convention, was held Sept. 22nd on the campus of Crozer Theological Seminary, whose faculty Dr. Franklin heads. Other rallies of youth followed, at Franklin, Ind.; Rochester, N. Y.; Bucknell University at Lewisburg, Pa.; Grand Rapids, Mich.; Alderson-Broadbent College in Philippi, W. Va.; and Sioux Falls College, Sioux Falls, So. Dak. In every case numbers, interest and enthusiasm have been exceptional.

Bradshaw Play Repeated Tonight

A notable cast will enact that thrilling comedy-mystery drama, "The Dead of Night," which will be presented for its second showing by the Bradshaw Friendly Society in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational church this evening, Friday. It was given last night before a crowded house. Five members of the cast, and the director, Parker Wood, are members of the Friends of the Drama and have already made their marks with Arlington audiences.

"The Dead of Night" marks Mr. Wood's first attempt at direction, but he is, nevertheless, not without experience. Besides appearing almost constantly on local stages for one organization or another he has had semi-professional experience and is the author of "Swift Sword," which was so successful just a year ago this month, being picked by Joseph D. Callahan, dramatic critic for the NEWS, as one of the outstanding plays of 1935.

The current production written by J. C. McMullen, is right down Mr. Wood's alley, so to speak. It contains no less than two murders with appropriate thrills, a liberal injection of drama, and ten laughs for every serious line, which means an average of ten a minute. It is a long time since Arlington has seen a straight mystery play, and for lack of practice it will be correspondingly difficult to guess the identity of the murderer, or murderers. It is boasted that anyone who guesses the true identity of the culprit, or culprits, will receive a leather medal after the performance, providing that his claim can be proven.

Chester Ginder and Blanche Woodward support the principal comedy roles. Judging from her performance last night, Mrs. Woodward bids fair to steal the show again. Her characterization is perfect, and she has the lines with which to work.

Mr. Ginder, who is probably the Friends of the Drama's number one comedian since the retirement of Norval Bacon, plays the leading role of the piece, and while he provoked as many laughs as did Mr. Woodward, he had also serious work to do as the country constable in charge of the case. One of the murders is committed right under his ample nose.

There are really two leading ladies, and these are played by Gertrude James and Katherine Hart. Mrs. James has never before been on the stage in Arlington, but she has had much experience elsewhere, and her mastery is very apparent. Miss Hart has been in many productions of the Friends, but never before has she had a similar opportunity of proving her dramatic ability.

Among the men in the cast are those sterling actors, Prescott Boston, Bradford Doty and Richard Cuihan. Mr. Boston is well and favorably known not only for his ability as a designer and painter of scenery but for his work in leading roles in such plays as "Daddy Longlegs," "Sing Sweet Angels," and "Swift Sword." Mr. Doty's most recent success was as a leading man in "This Thing Called Love." Mr. Cuihan has been in almost every play the Friends of the Drama have produced in the new clubhouse, either backstage or before the footlights, his greatest role probably being in the last Town Hall production of the Friends, "Peg O' My Heart." In "The Dead of Night" he has a very different kind of part, but he plays it to the very best of his ever-increasing ability.

The gem performance of the production is given by Walter Wilcox, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Wilcox. In the play Walter is a feeble-minded boy, but his performance proves that in life he is anything but that. It will not be many years before he is picked by the NEWS as the best Arlington actor of the season.

Dorothea Johnson is an important member of the cast,

Boy Scout Notes

A sign naming their cabin and a flag to fly showing that some of their members are present in camp are the projects now being considered by the patrols of Troop One. The sign will bear the name, "Chocorua Lodge." The flag will be of their own design and will be flown below the national colors on the troop's staff whenever the cabin is inhabited.

At the Universalists church, Monday, January 6, acting Scoutmaster William T. Anderson, Jr., officially made it known to all the boys that he had dedicated a room of this house to the patrols for their use in their outside meetings.

Assistant Scoutmaster W. Edward Russell, patrol leader Edmond Slater, scribe-patrol leader Gordon Surette, with other members of the troop will visit Camp Oak for the weekend; thus the troop's record of having missed only two weekends of camp since the beginning of the scout season.

Scout Bureau
The members of the Arlington Scout Press Bureau held their first meeting on January 7, 1936 at 214 Mountain ave. The meeting was presided over by Gordon Surette appointed Editor in Chief. The delegates from various troops of Arlington submitted their news items for criticism in publication. The Bureau will hold its meetings weekly so that the activities of the troops may be brought into closer contact with the public.

Troop Five
During the past two months there have been many changes in Troop Five which meets at the Junior High West. We have a new scoutmaster, Thomas L. Bush, who has done much for the troop. In the past two months 23 scouts went to Camp Oak. Tables, benches, a sink, a wood shed, and many other improvements have been made on the cabin. Bridge parties were held at the homes of Mrs. James Boyd, Mrs. Arthur Dodge and Mrs. Harry Dadman. The money was used to buy kerosene lamps, andirons and a firescreen.

There have been six new tenderfoot scouts invested. They are Benjamin Monk, Wayne Lappin, William Moore, Warren Bowe, Harry Dadman and Robert Jordan.

The scouts are preparing for a knot-tying contest. The scout who ties the required knots in the shortest time shall receive a badge. The boys have been practicing the knots for the past few weeks and the contest will be held soon.

SKATEE IS INJURED

Donald C. Fraser, 15, of 126 Newport st. received injuries to his head when he fell on the ice while skating at Hill's pond in Menotomy Rocks park last Monday. The boy was rushed to the Symmes hospital for treatment.

The old "Five and Ten" cent store still looks much the same but it is different. I seem to remember that when the original owner died it was in the paper that he had left it in his will that his stores should always be carried on as "Five and Ten Cent Stores." Anyhow for years they had a sign on them reading "Nothing over ten cents." To be sure they could price each stocking at 10 cents or each eighth of a yard at 10 cents and get away with it because they did have other signs up which read "Articles sold separately." Somehow this policy of the founder has been scrapped and prices of 20 and 40 cents are seen for single things. One item I noticed in a window was a rubber kitchen apron priced at 40 cents. Imagine buying one fourth of a rubber apron. It's no longer the Five and Ten but just another store.

The Clerk of the Board of Public Works told me that the collection of rubbish broke all records for the amount of material collected during the week following Christmas. I hope that meant a pleasanter and happier Christmas for all.

He has served on the Finance Committee and as Town Moderator besides being Clerk of the Board of Selectmen for a short time during the time the Citizens' Committee lost control of that Board.

It has been rumored that Mr. Lowe might be a candidate for that office and that if he did Mr. Barry would not run. If this is so does it mean that Mr. Lowe will not run or will Mr. Barry withdraw later?

DAVIDSON, TAXPAYERS'
ASSOCIATION TO CONFER

Next Monday evening the Directors and Executive Committee of the Arlington Taxpayers' Association will meet at their headquarters and confer with Arthur Davidson, Chairman of the Town Finance Committee. Various subcommittees of the Association are working on problems were given at a meeting.

The Directors feel that interest in the work of the Association is keen and every taxpayer in town should, and would, belong if given a definite tangible opportunity. Therefore about Jan 16th a letter and application blank will be sent to every taxpayer in town urging them to join. The purposes of the Association are non-partisan, but of vital importance to every one. Local problems directly concern every person in town. Most departmental expenditures have increased in the last five years. Only two departments, water and cemeteries, are any where near self supporting, and only a few have cut slightly. The largest item, schools, have shown a slight decrease, but other departments have more than offset this. Things are fast reaching a point where certain definite things should be done. State tax problems must be co-operated upon by all associations in the Commonwealth and National tax relief work should be supported. The State and National taxes indirectly effect every one. Strength in numbers count. A membership in the Arlington Taxpayers' Association is a real tangible form of Tax Insurance.

SELECTMEN TAKE ACTION TO GUARANTEE HOME RULE

By Staff Correspondent

State House, Boston—Massachusetts selectmen last Saturday issued an ultimatum to state government that further encroachment of the Commonwealth into the administration of town affairs would not be tolerated. The Arlington board attended the convention.

The Massachusetts Selectmen's Association, concluding its annual convention, demanded that 100 percent of Old Age Assistance costs be paid by the state. With an annual expenditure of $17,978 for that purpose the town of Arlington would affect an annual saving of $17,978.

Direct opposition to existing laws which reposes in the state department of Labor and Industry dictatorial power over wage scales to be paid by cities and towns for public works, was voted. State action was decreed bureaucratic and contrary to the theory of self-government.

An additional $50 per mile for highways constructed under the provisions of chapter 81 is demanded. The state at present pays $150 for each mile of highway in this class.

Would Limit State Tax
Adoption of a constitutional amendment limiting the state tax to five percent of the total expenditures, was unanimously favored by Selectmen with the hope of reducing local tax rates $4 per $1000.

The proposal, recommended by Rep. Elmer C. Nelson of Milford would reduce the state tax of approximately $10,000,000 noted in past years, to but $2,000,000.

Calvin P. Cook Is Honored By Associates

Calvin P. Cook, of 10 Kimball rd, was honored at a testimonial dinner in Hotel Continental in Cambridge last evening in recognition of his having completed 50 years in the packing industry for which he has received the gold service button of the Institute of American Meat Packers. John H. McManus, General Manager of the New England plants of the North Packing and Provision Co., presented him with a gift on behalf of his many friends.

Born in Leominster, in 1867, Mr. Cook attended the public schools there and at Brooklyn, N. Y., and Clinton, and graduated from the Bryant and Stratton Commercial College at Boston, entering the accounting department of Charles H. North and Company in December 1885. In 1900 he took charge of live stock purchases for the firm under its present name, and since 1915 he has been in charge of the production department.

Mr. Cook is a member of the Universalist church, and a past master of Hiram Lodge A. F. & A. M., which was instituted in 1797 at Lexington.

Public Enthusiastic
Over New Gofkauf's
Store In The Centre

Never in the history of the town has the opening of a new store created such a sensation as that experienced by Gofkauf's which opened its 28th store at 436 Mass ave last Friday.

Advertised in the News and Boston newspapers, the opening brought hundreds of people to the store. As a special attraction, the store management gave away free built kits. The result was that by 4 o'clock Friday afternoon over 1,000 free kits had been given away and the supply was exhausted.

Milton H. Hart, manager of the new store expressed his gratitude through a News reporter to the public for its enthusiastic response to the exceptional values offered by Gofkauf's. He also took occasion to invite the motorist to bring its problems to Gofkauf's.

To take care of the business which is daily increasing, Gofkauf's has enlisted the services of M. "Mitt" Watson and Bob Pollack, both of Arlington.

Alumni Association
To Meet Monday

The first 1936 meeting of the Arlington High School Alumni Association will be held in Wyman's English tavern next Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Joseph Callahan will preside.

It is expected that Joseph J. Revin, former school committee man will address the group. Plans for the President's Birthday Ball will be discussed at the meeting. The association sent a representative to the Ball Committee meeting in Robbins town hall last evening.

SEEKS RAISE FOR COURT CLERK

STATE HOUSE, Boston—Sen. Charles T. Cavanaugh of Cambridge, clerk of the East Cambridge district court has asked the legislature to establish the salary of a second assistant clerk at 75 per cent of the clerk's salary, approximately $3875 for the beneficiary under the proposal.

The measure must necessarily go before the committee on counties for approval inasmuch as clerks are paid from the county treasury.

SIDE KICK
NELLY SHANNON

By Gene Carr

MY NEW HEART ATTACK
PRESENT!

HE'S GOT A
BLIM

YEAH HE SINGS—
EVEN YOU
THAT OUT!

WELL, WHAT DO
YOU WANT
